

Equifax Data Breach

The breach at Equifax is estimated to affect more than 143 million Americans. The actual breaches took place from mid-May through the end of July, resulting in the compromise of names, Social Security numbers, birth dates, addresses and perhaps even driver's license information.

First Bank & Trust does not report any information to Equifax. However, we would advise our customers that their information might be at Equifax from any other provider they may have used.

Equifax has established a dedicated website, www.equifaxsecurity2017.com to help consumers determine if their information has been potentially impacted and to sign up for credit file monitoring and identity theft protection.

We also encourage customers to:

- Check your bank statements frequently
- Check your credit card statements regularly
- Monitor your credit report throughout the year --
